

Still he goes through pain and the long
All our stars and stripes across
The by being common our efforts
And our people over our foes

And our people over our foes
Ward to his former master
To our never to be found

And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes

And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes

And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes

And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes

And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes

And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes

And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes

And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
And our people over our foes
